INTRODUCTION

The two-year master's programme offers you the opportunity to study your main subject in greater depth on the basis of a personally designed study plan. You can put all of the skills you have acquired during the bachelor's programme to practical use in carrying out your research. Source studies, the use of online databases and style analyses are just some of the facets that will underpin your personal quest.

This Curriculum Handbook aims to provide you with all necessary information related to the curricula and courses of the master's programme in Early Music. The handbook includes information on the Master of Music programme including the Master Project, Focus Areas and a timeline. After programme objectives and a schematic overview of the curricula, you will find descriptions of all courses, including learning goals (called 'objectives') and assessment criteria. We would advise you to also read the Royal Conservatoire's Study Guide, which includes the Education and Examination Regulations (EER).

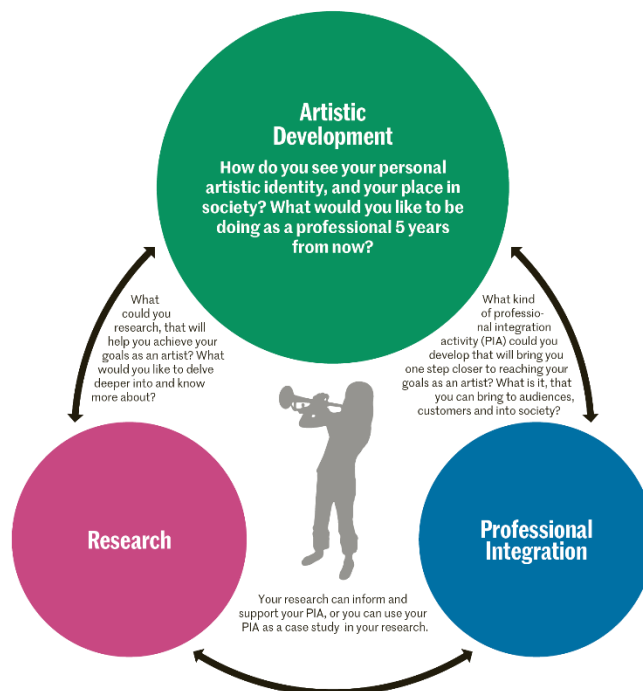

THE MASTER OF MUSIC PROGRAMME

PHILOSOPHY

The educational philosophy of the Master of Music programme at the Royal Conservatoire is dedicated to developing your individual artistic vision, personal growth, inquisitive and entrepreneurial attitude and independence, and your craft at a high qualitative level. We strive for our alumni to become excellent artists, and professionals who can reflect on their role in society and navigate the complex realities of today's music profession.

To guide your development, the curriculum is designed in three domains: artistic development – research – professional integration. The programme is aimed at helping you find your place in the professional practice. Therefore, you are constantly encouraged to make your own choices and develop and carry out your own ideas and plans. We challenge you to connect all three domains in a way that is meaningful and relevant to you, so that you can find your 'niche' and prepare yourself for your professional practice.

The main goal of the Master of Music programme is for students to develop and complete their own Master Project that will help them realise the professional practice they aspire by integrating the following three domains:

A. Artistic Development: You develop a vision for your artistic development: What characterises you as an artist in terms of motivations, interests and skills? What kind of artist would you like to become? What are your career aspirations? What do you need to work on in order to become this artist? How can your Master Project help you achieve your goals?
You will receive tuition by the teacher(s) of your main subject. Furthermore, you will participate in for example group lessons, projects, and masterclasses.

B. Research: Driven by your artistic vision, you conduct research that helps you reach your professional goals. You can use your research to inform and support your professional integration activity (PIA), or you can use your PIA as a case study in your research.
You will attend an introductory course on research in the arts and you will receive individual research supervision.

C. Professional Integration:
You design, develop and realise an activity that connects you with your desired professional practice and therefore brings you outside the walls of the conservatoire. This professional integration activity (PIA) is driven by your artistic goals. Your PIA can be used to explore how to put your vision into practice. It can be informed and supported by your research, or it can function as a case study.
You will attend an introductory course on project management during which you will design a plan for your PIA, and you will receive individual coaching by a professional integration coach.

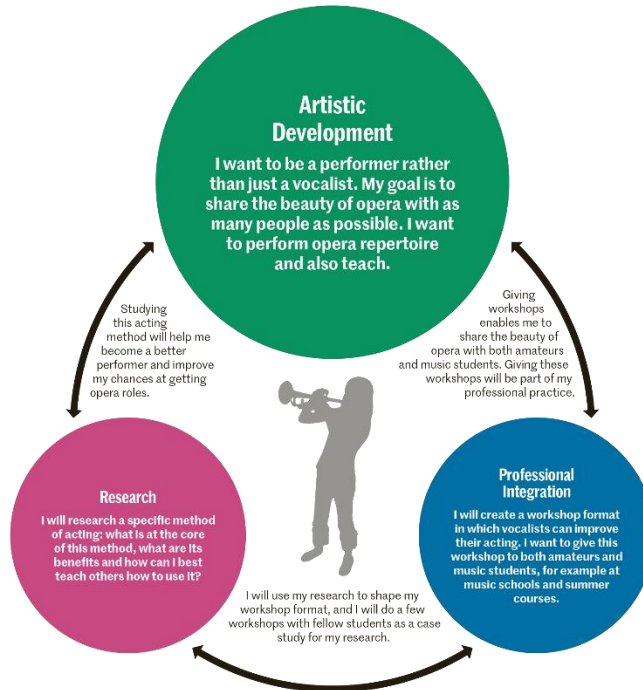

Master Circle

The monthly master circle is a peer learning group where the three domains of the Master Project come together and where you discuss the Master Project as a whole with your fellow students. The circles are organised by focus area. Every circle includes first- and second-year master students and is facilitated by a master circle leader.

MASTER PROJECT EXAMPLES

Here are some examples of potential Master Projects. This is a non-exhaustive list, as there are many possibilities to be explored. For example, you could collaborate with other students on a joint Master Project.

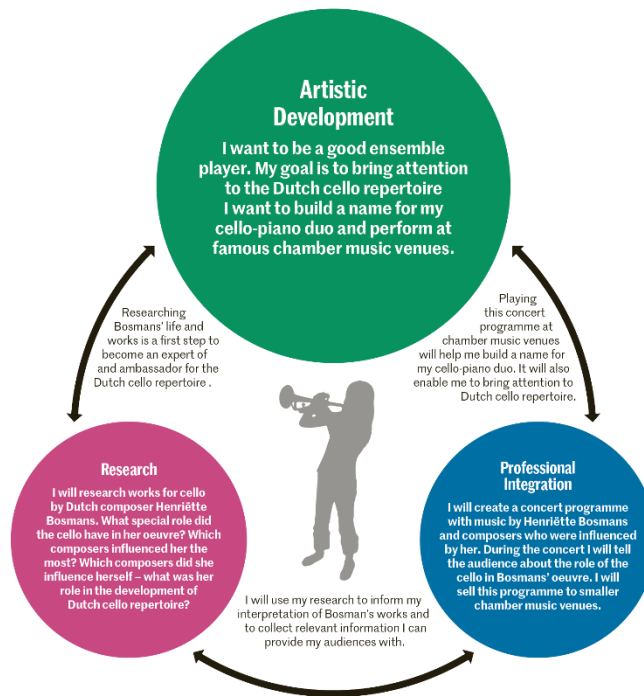

Example 1: Performer sharing the beauty of opera

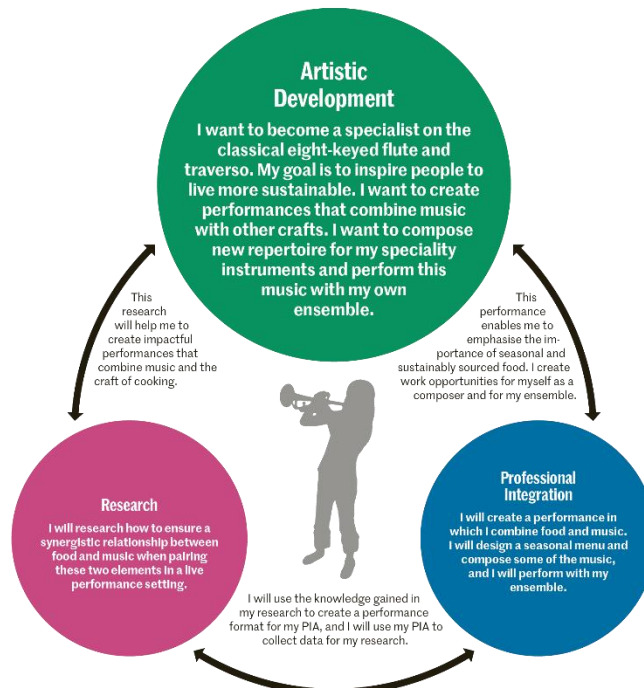

Example 2: Composing performer and band leader

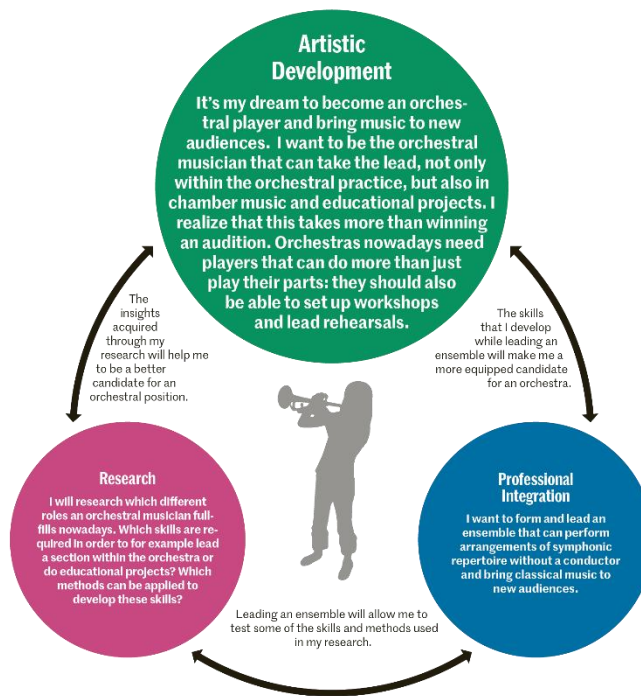

Example 3: Advocate for repertoire

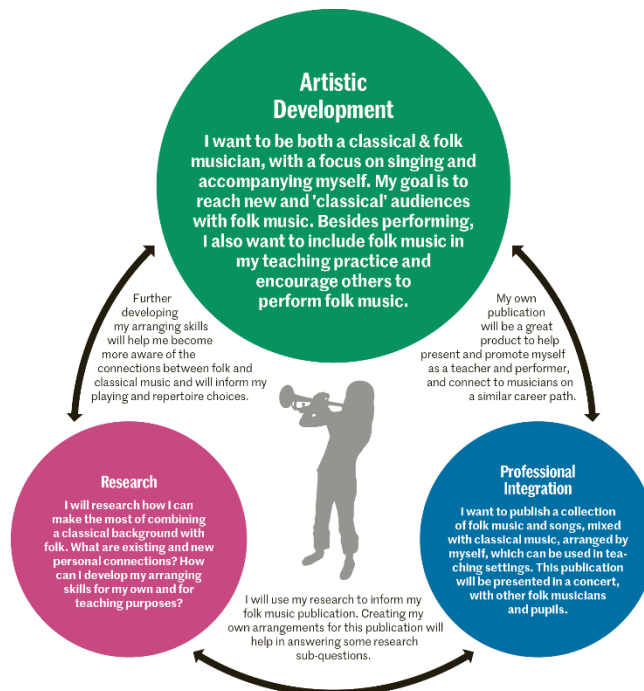

Example 4: Performer inspiring others through multi-disciplinary projects

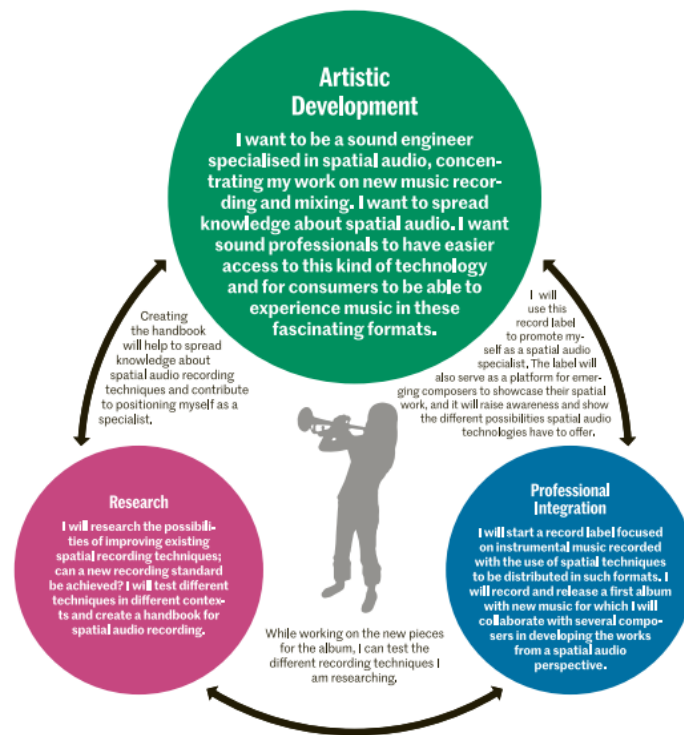

Example 5: Versatile orchestral player

Example 6: Classical folk musician

Example 7: Sound engineer spreading knowledge about spatial audio

MASTER PROJECT NETWORK

You are in control and at the centre of your Master Project – it's all about what you want to do and what is meaningful to you! However, you are not alone: you are surrounded by a network of people who can guide you while developing and realising your Master Project. Each person in the network will provide guidance from their specific perspectives. It is your own responsibility to keep them informed of all elements of your Master Project.

Your main subject teacher, who can help you define your artistic vision and artistic goals as point of departure for your Master Project.

Your research supervisor, who can help you with your Master Project from a research perspective.

Your professional integration coach, who can help you with your Master Project from a professional integration perspective.

Your master circle, consisting of your peers and master circle facilitator, with whom you can discuss the connection and coherence of artistic development, research and professional integration within your Master Project.

FOCUS AREAS

Students will be placed in a master circle which centres on one of the ten focus areas. The distribution of students over the various master circles is based on the Master Project Plans sent in as part of the application process. The focus areas are:

1. Art of Interpretation

Projects focused on the musical interpretation, contextualisation and performance of musical repertoire, both historical and contemporary. Besides artistic experimentation, research in this area presumes the critical study of various sources (scores, texts, recordings), which may inform and inspire the musical interpretation and eventually lead to altered approaches of performance practice. Professional integration activities may involve the curation and performance of concert programmes, the recording of an album or the creation of a thematic website, podcast or documentary.

2. Instruments, Techniques & Technologies

Projects focused on the design, use, role and function of instruments and their playing techniques in musical practice. Research in this area typically requires the application of knowledge about instrument making, acoustics or electronics, or the movement possibilities of the human body. Students in this area show a technically oriented interest, sensibility for sound and eagerness to experiment and develop. Examples are the exploration of historical, alternative or extended playing techniques, the use of microphones and amplification, the relation between instrumental set-ups and acoustics, and live electronics. Professional integration activities may include the development of new musical tools or instrumental prototypes, or instructive methods on playing techniques.

3. Music in Public Space

Topics related to the possible role and presence of music and artists in society and the public sphere. The research may focus on possibilities for enhancing the relevance of professional music practice in and outside the concert hall, the presence of artists in (social) media, and the interaction with audiences. Professional integration activities may lead to innovative curatorial practices, music projects and artistic profiles in the public sphere. Social engagement, communicative interaction and entrepreneurial attitude are essential in this area. In comparison to focus areas 7 and 8, the visibility and public character of the project outcomes should be central.

4. Creative Processes

Projects in this area zoom in on the making of music. Possible topics are the role of imagination, musical traditions, the interaction between composers and performers or the role of musical tools and notation techniques in creation processes. Artistic experimentation and documentation of the creative process are essential tools for researching in this area. Professional integration activities require an attitude of openness and curiosity towards all possible actors and elements that may contribute to the creation of music. The perspective of the creating artist is central, but also her ability to situate and contextualise project outcomes in a wider artistic and cultural context.

5. Beyond Discipline

Projects that deal with the interaction between different disciplines and media. What can music's relation to literature, dance, film, visual arts, theatre, and installation art be? How can the interaction with non-artistic disciplines, new technologies and digital tools inspire musical creation? Research in this area investigates how different disciplines can influence and inform each other, and how the interaction between different media can create new forms of expression. Professional integration activities aim to realise innovative approaches to music experience through the use of multiple media and collaborations beyond disciplines. Curiosity, risk-taking and the willingness to temporarily put on hold the norms and values of common musical craftsmanship are characteristic values in this area.

6. Musical Training, Performance & Cognition

Topics related to the process of musical learning and performance. The focus may be on musical preparation, avoidance of injuries, musical memory, mental and physical focus in performance, or the improvement of musical training and rehearsal methods. Research in this area is often informed by other fields of knowledge such as (music) psychology, biomedical sciences, physiotherapy, etc. Professional integration activities aim at sharing new knowledge and best practices, in a diversity of formats. Although there are possible overlaps with focus areas 8 and 9, the performer's perspective is central in this area.

7. Aesthetics & Cultural Discourse

What are the origins of standards, beliefs and values that relate to musical practice? The student's musical practice and personal experience are starting points for a broader cultural and aesthetic inquiry. Examples of topics are the investigation and challenging of sound ideals and historical conceptions of 'the beautiful', 'musical taste' or 'musical quality'. Hot topics regarding cultural identity, environmentalism, decolonization or gender representation in music may also play a role. Students in this area have an affinity for reasoning, discussing and writing. The use of language may play an important role in professional integration activities, in combination with artistic practice.

8. Co-creative and Educational Settings

Working with people is key in this focus area. Research investigates co-creative, participatory or educational processes. The professional integration activities aim at working with, in, and through music with amateurs, children, elderly people or other participants. The role of the student in these projects is that of a coach, guide, teacher or cultural mediator. The context for research and professional integration activities can be classrooms, elderly homes, participatory art projects or other contexts for social-cultural work. Although the student's artistry remains crucial, projects in this area always consider the participant's experience as a guiding principle in musical activities.

9. Music Theory & Aural Skills

Topics in this area focus on the combined theoretical and aural understanding of music as an acoustic and cultural phenomenon. Examples are the investigation of tuning systems, scales and modes and their application in music, or the relationship between rhetoric and musical form in baroque music. Projects in this area often aim at systemizing knowledge in order to apply it to music didactics. An analytical and clear methodical approach is characteristic for both research and professional integration activities in this area.

10. Artistic Knowledge & Scientific Inquiry

This focus area investigates how artistic practice and scientific inquiry can mutually enrich one another. Students explore how scientific concepts, methods and data can inspire musical and artistic creation, and how artistic processes can, in turn, generate new insights, forms of knowledge, or modes of scientific communication. Projects may involve working with scientific datasets to create sound-based interpretations or musical structures; translating scientific models into artistic formats; exploring bioacoustics, sonification, or sensory augmentation; or collaborating with scientists in laboratories, observatories, or field research contexts. Students in this area are curious about empirical inquiry and seek to translate complex scientific systems into meaningful artistic and musical experiences.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

Below you will find a set of requirements which we call programme objectives. These are the minimum requirements that you need to meet in order to obtain a Master of Music degree from the Royal Conservatoire. Our programme objectives are based on the AEC Learning Outcomes (2017)¹, an international qualification framework developed by the European Association of Conservatoires (AEC), which is based on a broad consultation with institutions all over Europe and experts from the music profession. The objectives have been adapted where necessary to fit the study programme of our MMus in Early Music.

The master programme objectives are divided in three categories: A) practical outcomes, B) theoretical outcomes and C) generic outcomes – and are numbered for ease of reference. The AEC Learning Outcomes refer to three cycles: 1st cycle (Bachelor), 2nd cycle (Master) and 3rd cycle (Doctoral). Therefore all master objectives start with the number 2. In the course descriptions, the field 'programme objectives' refers to these codes, e.g. 2.A.1, 2.B.5, 2.C.10. This means that the course contributes to obtaining the skills and knowledge described in those objectives. There may be several courses contributing to the same objectives.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ARTISTIC DEVELOPMENT

Main Subject Early Music

Course title	Main Subject Early Music (M)
Department responsible	Early Music
OSIRIS course code	KC-M-EM-xx
Type of course	Compulsory course
Prerequisites	You need to finish the first year of this course to be allowed to enter the second.
Course content	Master's studies of the main subject are divided in two categories: the individual lessons by a specialized main subject teacher, and the participation in projects and/or ensemble lessons. The individual lessons offer you further development on your path towards complete musicianship in the realm of historical performance practice. The master's studies in Early Music include an opportunity to deliver a contribution to the perpetual quest for detailed knowledge about the historical instrument and the way it was played. This contribution will lead to the expansion of your general knowledge about historical performance practice, and will help you to develop a network of colleagues and organisations that you maintain as a starting point of further exploration into the future. At the entry of the master's course, you have shown to possess the basic professional skills on your instrument in terms of sound production, intonation, technical and stylistic accuracy. The second phase is intended to reach a higher level of awareness about the meaning of historical context and its implications on the choices to be made when performing repertoire from various periods of history. The goal of the master's studies is to guarantee that you develop a personal frame of reference which, mastering the instrument, you can use in order to reach a convincing performance that is based on knowledge and understanding as well as taste and intuition. Being challenged to use the tools obtained from the compulsory research training, you develop into an independent historically informed performer with a clear personal approach and view. For the Master Historical Keyboard Instruments you choose two out of these three instruments; harpsichord, fortepiano, organ. In this programme you will receive a total of 90 minutes per week of lessons on the two keyboard instruments of your choice. For the Master Basso Continuo for Harpsichord: you will receive lessons in solo playing for harpsichord in addition to the main subject Basso Continuo lessons.

Work form	Supervision sessions
Literature	You will look for relevant literature yourself, based on your chosen research topic.
Language	English
Scheduling	Appointments with your research supervisor. 15 hours over two years, M1 and M2.
Date, time & venue	The frequency of supervision is entirely up to the supervisor and to you and will differ from one individual to another.
Teachers	Your research supervisor will be selected from a pool of experienced teachers and researchers who are knowledgeable in your focus area. Research supervisors are trained to support you for the duration of your research trajectory, but may not necessarily be an expert in your topic. Assessment	This course is assessed using the following assignment. The assignment needs to be passed in order to pass this course.
Assignment	Assignment 1
Assignment type	Master Research Presentation
Assignment description	The presentation of the findings of your research in the context of your Master Project is two-fold: a written submission via the Research Catalogue and an oral presentation during the Master Research Symposium. While the format of presentation and documentation may vary greatly depending on the nature of the research, its outcome, and your main subject study, there must be a coherent relationship between the research subject and the resulting documentation and presentation. You should be aware of the importance of the research subject for your own artistic development, for your Master Project, for other students and/or for the music world at large. In the three semesters leading up to the presentation of the research, you will have developed a viable research question, and undertaken research with the guidance of a research supervisor. The results should have a significant impact on your performing practice. The final documentation of the research results must take the form of either a research exposition or thesis and must be presented on the Research Catalogue. Students and supervisors are advised to discuss which format best suits the chosen research topic of the student with Head of Master Research Kathryn Cok, in year 1. During the Master Research Symposium you will give a 30-minute presentation of of your research to the committee of examiners in front of an interested audience. The presentation is followed by 15 minutes of questions from the committee of examiners and if time allows, members of the audience. You may use your own device; a screen as well as a back-up computer will be present. If other materials are required (instruments other than a grand piano, equipment, technology, etc.), you must arrange this yourself (via the Planning Department, the IT Department and/or the Electronics Workshop). We will make sure the grand piano has been tuned, but we are not responsible for the tuning of other instruments. The live presentations will be recorded and filmed for quality assurance purposes. This material will only be for internal use and school archives, and cannot be shared with students for personal use.
Assignment requirements	Research exposition or thesis

The exposition or thesis must be written in English and adhere to one of the following two formats:

1. Research exposition

The research exposition is the culmination and final product of an in-depth period of research, and should include: critical thinking, source evaluation, and documentation. Information should be presented in a defined structure, including an introduction, a body and a conclusion. The research exposition should also serve as a vehicle for sharing new or expanded knowledge with the wider world. It should be centered upon a process that concerns your musical/educational practice, and at the same time should demonstrate acquired research skills. In the research exposition, the balance between the use of text and the use of other media (audio, video, scores, images) may vary. Whatever style you choose for the final dissemination of your research, your artistic/educational practice should remain central to the research and the resulting research exposition. You should decide, in consultation with your supervisor(s), what balance and configuration of words, sounds and images, are appropriate to the communication and publication of your research. Here the multimedia possibilities of the Research Catalogue make it possible to choose the most adequate format of the final research exposition.

You are encouraged to embed non-textual elements of your research directly into your written work on the RC, the action of doing so providing you with additional multimedia research and documentation skills. This, in addition, aids the presentation and dissemination of your research results to the wider world.

Please note:

- You must adhere to the rules for quoting sources as addressed in the Introduction to Research in the Arts course;
- Suggested word count: 5,000-10,000 words, with an absolute maximum of 40,000 words.
- The exposition must be uploaded into the Research Catalogue for submission.

2. Thesis

If you wish to write an academic thesis, you should produce a substantial document with a defined structure, including an introduction, a body and a conclusion, in which you document your research through reasoning and the use of evidence and the correct use of sources. Students planning to continue on to a PhD programme are advised to choose this format. Your artistic/musical/educational practice will still be the point of departure. You are encouraged to embed non-textual elements of your research directly into your written work

	on the RC, the action of doing so providing you with additional multimedia research and documentation skills. This, in addition, aids the presentation and dissemination of your research results to the wider world. The committee of your research presentation will include at least one member with a PhD. Please note: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - You must adhere to the rules for quoting sources as addressed in the Introduction to Research in the Arts course. - Suggested word count: 15,000-20,000 words, with an absolute maximum of 60,000 words. - The thesis must be uploaded into the Research Catalogue for submission. Regardless of the chosen format, the research documentation should contain the following information: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. A Title Page (including title, your name, main subject, student number, date, Royal Conservatoire The Hague, name(s) of research supervisor(s) and the final chosen format of documentation (Exposition or Thesis); 2. The research question or issue addressed and its relevance for peers, your own artistic development and the music world at large; 3. A description of the research process (the search for the solution to the research question) including methodology; 4. An analysis or critical discussion of the findings; 5. Conclusions; 6. A list of the sources consulted: next to the bibliography this may also include a list of interviews, experiments, etc; 7. The exposition or thesis should include performance registrations, transcriptions, original compositions, musical analysis, instruction manuals, images or other material relevant to the research. It should be structured and embedded within the Research Catalogue. Master Research Symposium - Presentation During the Master Research Symposium you are required to give a 30-minute presentation of your research in English to the committee of examiners, having chosen an appropriate format of presentation and documentation. Your presentation should include live performance or audio and/or video examples in order to demonstrate the outcomes of your research. You are in particular encouraged to demonstrate outcomes in connection to your own practice. You should also make clear in your presentation how your research connects to your artistic development and PIA. Your presentation will be followed by 15 minutes of questions from the committee of examiners.
Assignment planning	25 November 2026: Preliminary version

By 25 November 2026, a preliminary version of the final research exposition or thesis must be submitted in English to the Research Catalogue. This deadline is designed as a check-in point for M2 students, their Research Supervisors, and the Master Research Team. Students should invite their Research Supervisor to their exposition or thesis at least two weeks before the deadline to receive their feedback on the contents or current state of the research.

The Head of Master Research will then provide feedback on the design and scope of the exposition or thesis, which at this point should at least include:

1. A title page that is complete and reflects the contents of the research
2. An embedded Table of Contents
3. Chapters with content (text and media)
4. A bibliography
5. Footnotes

This is an opportunity to receive valuable feedback in the run-up to your final version.

By 10 February 2027, an abstract of your research must be submitted in English, containing the following:

1. Your name
2. Main subject
3. Name of research supervisor(s)
4. Title of research
5. Research question
6. Summary of the results of the research (max. 200 words)

You will be given your grade and feedback immediately following the deliberations of the committee. Once the schedule has been made and communicated via ASIMUT (koncon.asimut.net), it is no longer possible to change times, dates and/or locations. Any date preferences should be sent to the Coordinator Master Research by 1 October 2026. In order to make a correct schedule for the Master Research Symposium in April 2026, all 2nd year students should inform the Master Research Team by 1 October 2026 if their chosen format is a thesis. After this date it is no longer possible to alter the format.

Preparation time is usually seen as part of the main subject study. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Activities need to be at the level of the course, e.g. playing along with an amateur orchestra as a tutti string player or singing in an amateur choir will not usually qualify for ECTS. - Teaching for a few hours per week for a year = on average 3 ECTS. - Making a website = maximum 2 ECTS. - Organising concerts, setting up a website, programming a concert series and other activities directed towards skills useful in a music career are all given extra value. - In principle, participating in KC activities/projects is not eligible for ECTS – participation is indicated in the SVO. - Participating in exams or presentations of student colleagues within the curriculum (e.g. final presentations of drama lessons) does not qualify for ECTS. - Passive attendance of masterclasses does not qualify for ECTS. CLASSICAL: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - One week working with a professional orchestra/ensemble = 2 ECTS. - NJO (National Youth Orchestra) winter tour = 3 ECTS. - EuYO/Gustav Mahler orchestras etc. = 5 ECTS. CONDUCTING: The Conducting Department is almost exclusively involved with the directing of ensembles, orchestras and choirs in order to gain experience and grow artistically.

Master Specialisation: Complementary Subject (Classical Music, Early Music, Jazz)

Course title	Master Specialisation: Complementary Subject (Classical Music, Early Music, Jazz)
Department responsible	Various
OSIRIS course code	KC-M-AL-SCDO1-21; KC-M-AL-SCDO2-21
Type of course	Master specialisation
Prerequisites	Candidates are expected to already possess extensive skills in the field of their chosen complementary subject. Admission after audition only. Students can be admitted to this specialisation for one year only and have to audition if they want to continue for another year. In that case, the recordings of your M1 complementary subject exam can count as your audition. You can find more details and entry requirements on our website.
Course content	The Complementary Subject is intended for talented Master students who would like to combine their main subject studies with additional lessons on another or similar instrument in another department. Complementary Subject is possible in the Classical Music, Early Music and Jazz departments. The objective of this course is to prepare students who are able to manage the challenges of both disciplines for a professional practice that includes activities in the two

	fields. Application to the Complementary Subject is competitive and requires students to have a level comparable to a Bachelor 3 level on their complementary instrument. Important information: If you are interested in doing Complementary Subject for two years then your practical exam at the end of M1 will be your audition for a place in M2. Places are limited so a successful practical exam at the end of M1 does not necessarily mean that you can enter M2. Please note: If you are admitted to the Complementary Subject, you will have 60 minutes of weekly main subject lessons and 25 minutes of Complementary Subject lessons.
Programme objectives	2.A.1, 2.A.2, 2.A.3, 2.A.4, 2.A.7, 2.A.12, 2.C.7, 2.C.16
Course objectives	At the end of this course, you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ are able to perform with considerable technical control over your complementary instrument (e.g. sound, bowing, intonation, breathing) to a level comparable to that of a successful Bachelor 3-4 presentation; ▪ are able to integrate your skills and knowledge of historically informed performance practice (Early Music) or contemporary classical performance practice (Classical Music) into your Master Project; ▪ are able to integrate awareness of style and musical language into your playing (e.g. ornamentation, articulation, basso continuo in Early Music); ▪ have developed a thorough understanding of the historical approach of music (Early Music only); ▪ are able to apply skills and techniques inherent to jazz (improvisation, interpretation, variation, rhythmical phrasing) with considerable level and artistic scope (Jazz only); ▪ have developed a thorough understanding of the historical development and contemporary practice of jazz and its (cross)influences on other genres (Jazz only); ▪ have achieved an awareness of style and musical language (e.g. phrasing, variation, improvisation) into your musical practice (Jazz only); ▪ are able to integrate your jazz performance skills and/or knowledge into your Master Project; this can be achieved in various ways and within different optional components such as research or performance (Jazz only).
