INTRODUCTION

The Royal Conservatoire in The Hague has an ambitious goal: to train tomorrow's artists. We help students develop their artistic and creative talents to the highest possible standard. We foster excellence, critical capacity, and creativity in our students by continually challenging them to pursue new paths and directions in professional practice.

Developing your craft as a musician is the first pillar of your study experience. Through individual main subject lessons, chamber music classes and theory classes, you develop yourself as professional musician able to perform on an international level.

International projects in connection with famed orchestras and ensembles make for a professionally oriented study environment. Solid preparation for a professional career is more important than ever. By playing in projects you learn how to work in a professional environment.

We foster a creative spirit through courses in improvisation, and offer various electives and minors. Electives and minors allow you to travel to another department of the conservatoire and benefit from its strengths. During your Bachelor studies you can follow a three-year minor in subjects such as composition, conducting, early music, jazz, singing or education. This includes weekly lessons. Alternatively, you can follow electives here at the conservatoire, or at one of our partner institutions: Leiden University and Codarts Rotterdam.

In this Curriculum Handbook you will find the programme objectives of the bachelor's programme offered by the Classical Music Department, curriculum overviews and course descriptions with learning objectives and assessment criteria. We recommend you to read this document, the Study Guide and the Education and Examination Regulations (EER) carefully.

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES BACHELOR CLASSICAL MUSIC

Below you will find a set of requirements which we call programme objectives. These are the minimum requirements that you need to meet in order to obtain a Bachelor of Music degree from the Royal Conservatoire. Our programme objectives are based on the AEC Learning Outcomes (2017)¹, an international qualification framework developed by the European Association of Conservatoires (AEC), which is based on a broad consultation with institutions all over Europe and experts from the music profession. The objectives have been adapted where necessary to fit the study programme of our BMus in Classical Music.

The bachelor programme objectives are divided in three categories: A) practical outcomes, B) theoretical outcomes and C) generic outcomes – and are numbered for ease of reference. In the course descriptions, the field ‘programme objectives’ refers to these codes, e.g. 1.A.1, 1.B.4, 1.C.10. This means that the course contributes to obtaining the skills and knowledge described in those programme objectives. There may be several courses contributing to the same objectives.

At the end of the Bachelor of Music in Classical Music programme, you:

Venue:	Royal Conservatoire
Protocol:	PROTOCOL COACH PIANIST The Royal Conservatoire offers a team of coach pianists. These musicians/teachers play together with the students in lessons, classes and exams. While preparing those concert occasions, students learn different approaches to dealing with repertoire and playing together. Students: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - at the beginning of the year, talk with your coach pianist about the planning of the available hours. - don't forget to talk about try-outs and other occasions like competitions you would like to play at with your coach pianist: these are basically not part of the task of your coach pianist. - to reschedule your lesson - with good reason - to another than the set time, you should ask latest Thursday of the week ahead of the appointment. - only when ill and cancelling at least 24 hours before the planned lesson can you ask to find another time to take the lesson. - be sure to be in time for your lesson, out of common politeness but also because of time management. - it is important to establish a programme to be played at an exam/(final) presentation/class in time. - unusual and labour-intensive repertoire demands respectful and timely deliberation. - a request to play harpsichord or organ can be refused. - class concert nights belong to the work of the coach pianists provided that there is good consultation about planning and completion. - when students play together with student pianists it is possible to ask the coach pianist for instruction lessons. When the collaboration with a student pianist develops towards replacing the coach pianist the student duo should work at least a couple of times with the coach pianist. - coach pianists keep in touch with the main subject teacher, and vice versa, about progress and learning objectives of the student.

Protocol:	PROTOCOL PIANO Class protocol Beginning of the school year Once you have received your timetable get in touch with the piano teacher to whom you have been allocated within a week. Call or send an email. Even if you are unable to start straightaway you should nevertheless report to your teacher so that he or she knows you plan to come. Students failing to report to their piano teacher before 1 October run the risk of only being able to start their classes a year later. Attendance There are 34 classes per academic year. To sit the exam you must have an attendance of 80%, in other words 28 classes. Exceptions are only made in the case of an injury or long term illness. Attendance lists are kept. NB Classes can only be missed for a good reason and with advance notice. Notification Let your own piano teacher know if you are unable to attend. Do not wait until the class begins but notify the teacher as soon as you know you cannot make it. Try and swap with someone else. If you are ill on a day when there is a class, phone or text teachers so that they are not kept waiting in vain and can then adjust their timetable. Examination protocol Exemption Exemption is only granted after a test of proficiency. Report your wish for exemption at the first class with the teacher. You will then be asked to play for a committee of three piano teachers. If you play well enough to pass the final examination with ease you will be given an exemption.

	You may possibly be granted exemption for part of the class but will be required to do the other parts in the final examination. Examination The final examination is in June. You will receive an invitation via the koncon mail to sit the examination a month before the date at the latest. If you cannot sit the examination on the given date you have a week after the date of the notice to fix another date with the chair of the examinations committee Ms Rixt van der Kooij, r.vanderkooij@koncon.nl. Exchange of examination times is allowed within the class of your own piano teacher. You can consult the piano teacher and the teacher arranges this with the chair of the examinations committee. Make sure you are on time. At least 15 minutes beforehand. There is a practice room available. If you are ill on the day of the examination or you cannot sit the examination for another reason, notify this as soon as possible to your own piano teacher. The teacher passes this on to the chair of the examination committee. Resits If you fail your final examination an estimate is made of the time you will need to attain the required standard. A resit is usually scheduled in December or a year later in June. The committee plans the resits. NB If you are not allowed to take an examination because you have failed to meet the attendance requirement (absent for more than 20% of classes), the new examination is considered to be a resit. NB If you fail an examination because your initial level was too low but you have nevertheless put in the requisite effort this is noted at your examination and the next examination will then count as the first examination. The maximum length of time allowed for finishing this course is two years. NB Every year a limited number of places is available for highly-motivated students who want to do an extra year of piano classes. Students should let teachers know in good time that they wish to do this and how they would like to use this year (teachers will inquire in good time) and the teachers will pass this on to Rixt van der Kooij, who plans all the examinations. At the time of the examinations of this group of students, selection of those wishing to do an extra year will take place on the basis of the standard of (piano) playing.

AURAL SKILLS AND ANALYSIS 1

Course title:	Aural Skills and Analysis 1
Osiris course code:	KC-TH-ASA
Course content:	You develop your analytical and practical musicianship skills needed for high quality music making: stylistic understanding, melodic, polyphonic, harmonic and analytical hearing, musical memory and imagination, music reading and writing skills. You practice these musicianship skills through singing, playing and listening. The starting point is your own and other relevant repertoire, which will gradually become more complex during the course. The repertoire will be chosen from different styles and time periods. Solfège skills are developed so that the class as a group or you individually can 'sound' music through singing and/or playing, with good intonation and musical understanding. In analysis activities, you learn to understand musical constructs and concepts from the inside of a composition. The aural skills and analysis activities are not only tools, but represent artistic value in themselves. In the beginning activities will be mainly initiated by the teacher, but you can take initiative in choosing repertoire and practical assignments.
Objectives:	At the end of this course, you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ show a reliable level of basic skills in musical literacy, analysis and musicianship; ▪ have a basic understanding of elementary concepts in music and music theory (melody, harmony, counterpoint, homophony, polyphony, (a)tonality, modality, texture); ▪ are able to use basic music theoretical terminology for musical concepts as a beginning professional musician; ▪ have knowledge of what has been learned and are able to reflect on it.

The tutor's role is to help you to reflect on your study and to monitor your study progress. In order to become independent reflective practitioners students need self-regulation skills and habits. Each study year all 4 categories should be represented in your development and habits. Evidence of this can be shown f.i. through practical assignments, reports, recordings, or in conversation. Students can also decide to keep the reflective practicing journal 'Musician's Log' developed by Susan Williams, which meets the requirement of all 4 categories. The tutor will have consultations with students individually and in small groups. The tutor is also available to you on request. Consultations with the tutor are confidential. Study progress will be an important topic in private consultations. CAREER SKILLS: PREPARATION FOR PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

Course title:	Preparation for Professional Practice (classical music and conducting departments)
Osiris course code:	KC-AL-VBP
Course content:	The cultural field is in a constant state of change. For musicians young and old, there is an increasing demand for new approaches, not only to ensure life sustainability but also to realise artistic goals. It is not only about playing your instrument really well; being successful in your professional career these days is built on a strong foundation that consists of many components. Building that architecture takes time; this course addresses the building blocks and helps you to start realising your own foundation. The objective of this course is to support you in your professional career from an organisational and life skills perspective: “What do you need to make it these days?”. In order to address this question, we will look into tools and tricks that can be beneficial, building an appropriate mind-set for the challenges ahead, and share experiences, life stories and best practices between ourselves and interesting guest speakers. The course is structured around eight collective sessions build around a specific theme. In addition to these sessions there are two rounds of workgroups with a more dynamic approach in which the students will work together on important issues. Each session has its own assignment, and the eight assignments constitute the chapters that make your Personal Activity Plan (PAP). We will reflect on your assignments in two 30-minute coaching sessions, one mid-term and one at the end, where we will not only address your plan, but also other ideas and questions related to your personal professional practice. From developing a business perspective, reflecting on current and future professional practices, looking at identity and visibility, to practical sides of organising yourself and realising dreams and productions, this course aims to help you on your way in the present musical field. You will have analysed your personal strengths and weaknesses, gained industry awareness and developed a richer understanding of the music field, you will have worked on your promotion material, taken steps in giving a pitch, you will have worked with planning tools, learned about project applications and funding organisations, and so on. This course is part of the Career Skills courses. - A student should hand in a programme leaflet for all tests and presentations.
- The Royal Conservatoire wishes to educate its students to be informed musicians. Students should be able to show, at every level, knowledge of the historical background of the music they perform, and an awareness of their responsibility and possibilities as a communicative educator, while enjoying with curiosity the wonderful occasion of presenting music to an audience.
- These exam requirements are to be seen as guidelines: they express the required minimum level, without being able to express the expected performance quality. This document is a grip for students and teachers in defining their goals, and it also gives the opportunity to deviate with good motivation.
